Art Unit: 1761

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Reich et al (US Patent No. 3,421,906) and Bel Rhlid et al (EP 0963706) for the reasons set forth in rejecting the claims in the last office action. The amendments to the claims are not seen to influence the conclusion of unpatentability previously set forth.

Reich et al teach coffee stabilization using sulfur dioxide (see entire patent, especially claims 1 and 2) and the processed coffee product (claim 2).

Bel Rhlid et al teach a precursor flavoring mixture, which forms thiols upon heating (see entire document, especially claim 1).

The claims appear to differ as to increasing amounts of desirable compounds and reducing amounts of undesirable compounds.

The prior art teaches the claimed components and process steps. Consequently, increasing the amounts of desirable compounds and reducing the amounts of undesirable compounds would be inherent and/or obvious to that of Reich et al and Bel Rhlid et al.

Applicant's arguments filed September 10, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the prior art does not disclose that the stabilizing agent is present with the aroma-providing component.

Reich et al and Bel Rhlid et al teach the same components as claimed. Increasing the amounts of compounds that provide or improve desirable flavor and reducing the amounts of compounds that suppress desirable flavor characteristics would be inherent and/or obvious to that of Reich et al and Bel Rhlid et al. The stabilizing agent is present with the aroma-providing component. Applicant's claims do not define over the teachings of Reich et al and Bel Rhlid et al. Applicant does not distinguish over the prior art, as the prior art teaches stabilization of the flavor and aroma or processed coffee products as is claimed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
